Teachers packets containing programs, membership cards, banquet tickets, teacher directories and the like will be distributed between 8 and 9 o'clock on the opening morning at the entrance to the Majestic theater, Mr. Slaybaugh said.

Teachers attending the institute will be paid $4 per day for attendance. Those who do not attend will forfeit a like amount to the employing school district unless there is a valid excuse presented to the county superintendent for being absent, a letter sent out today by the county office revealed.

WIVELL MURDER TRIAL BEGINS; MAN SENTENCED

The trial of James Francis Wivell, Emmitsburg, at Frederick, on a charge of murder, has been continued tentatively until Tuesday to permit the defense to bring forth two witnesses who were not able to be present for the opening of the trial. At the same time the Frederick county court has sentenced Roscoe C. Six, near Detour, Md., to 18 months in the house of correction on a charge of assault and battery brought in the shooting of his housekeeper, Clara Weishaar, who was treated at the Warner hospital here after the shooting last April.

Six was indicted after he allegedly shot Miss Weishaar through the left chest, being charged with assault with intent to kill, but was permitted Wednesday to enter a plea of guilty to a second count of the indictment, assault and battery, and the charge of assault with intent to kill was dropped. He was sentenced Wednesday to the house of correction.

Woman Testifies *

Taking the stand in his own behalf, Six detailed his relationship with the woman, residing in the same house; that divorce proceedings had been instituted by his wife in Carroll county, and since granted. He told of an argument the night of the episode, that he had been struck by the complainant, and that he had subsequently grabbed a .32-caliber rifle and shot her through the left breast. He took the wounded woman to the home of a neighbor, Donald Harper, and in the latter's car, secured medical aid, then removing her to the Warner hospital at Gettysburg Six was taken into custody, and later released under bond.

State's Attorney Edwin F. Niekirk's only witness was Miss Weishaar, whose testimony was substantially the same.

The murder charge against Wivell, 25-year-old wounded Emmitsburg veteran, was brought as a result of the death of Maurice Sheely, 45, on May 31, 1946. The case got off to a late start Wednesday as a result of the late arrival (Please Turn to Page 7)

Among the 3,023 bodies of World War II dead about the Army transport Honda Knot which docked in San Francisco this noon is that of Lieutenant (jg) Delbert L. Gideon, whose widow, Mrs. Sara Black Gideon, resides at 410 Baltimore street.

Lt. Gideon, who was in the Navy for 17 years, died July 31, 1944 in a plane crash somewhere in the Pacific. He was first reported missing and later was said by the Navy to have been killed in the crash which occurred to a plane flying from an unidentified Pacific base. Nine naval and three army officers and a crew of six were either killed or missing in the smash-up.

In a letter sent at that time to Lieutenant Gideon's widow, Mrs. Sara Black Gideon, Baltimore street, a Capt. Philip R. Kenney praised Lieutenant Gideon's long and outstanding career in the Navy. He served in several Asiatic stations including Shanghai and Manila for two years, spent two years on Corregidor and two years at Washington, D. C. before being assigned to the area in which he was killed.

Surviving are his widow; a son, George William "Billy" Gideon, who was eight months old at the time of his father's death, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Gideon, Newkirk, Okla., six sisters and a brother. The body was originally interred on a Pacific island.

San Francisco, Oct. 10 (AP)—A grey transport slips through the mists of the Golden Gate today with the bodies of men who died in World War II—the first to fall and the first to come home.

A nation's grateful tribute awaited the first funeral ship returning the war dead—most of them victims of Japan's attack on Pearl Harbor which sowed American cemeteries all over the world.

In Washington, the capitol flag dipped to half-staff—an honor heretofore extended only on the death of a President or a member of Congress.

The transport Honda Knot, inbound from Honolulu, carried 3,023 bodies. In addition to the Pearl Harbor dead, the ship also bore some who died in later battles in China, India and Burma.

Escort of Planes

In all, nearly 300,000 Americans lost their lives in World War II. Actually the conflict cost more—the figure does not include the missing or those who died as prisoners. The Honda Knot and a transport from Europe, due in New York October 25, are the first of many—for officials say three-fourths of all Americans who died abroad probably will be returned for burial.

At noon, the Honda Knot drops anchor 300 yards off the curving Marina shore, just inside the Golden Gate. Forty-eight planes will escort her into San Francisco Bay. As memorial services begin artillery will fire a measured, 21-gun salute.

From the shore, a little launch will carry a simple wreath to the ship—President Truman's tribute from the nation. Leaves from trees in all parts of the country were used to form the wreath.

Then, a minute of silence, followed by the national anthem, played by an Army-Navy band. Mayor Roger Lapham will inform the President's Military Aide, Maj. Gen. Harry Vaughn, that the memorial wreath has been presented.

6 Lie In State

Speakers for the half-hour memorial service include Gen. Mark Clark, sixth army commandant; Governor Earl Warren, and Secretary of the Navy, John L. Sullivan.

After taps, the Honda Knot moves on down the bay to dock at the Oakland Army base.

Six caskets will lie in state in the rotunda of San Francisco's city hall Saturday morning, representing the Army, Navy, Coast Guard, Marine Corps, Air Force, and service-attached civilians.

Within three days, and with the greatest reverence, all 3,023 caskets will be sent to their final resting places, in accord with the wishes of next of kin. With each will go a guard of honor.

ORGAN CONCERT ATTRACTS 400

More than 400 attended the concert presented Thursday night in Christ Lutheran church by Virgil Fox, young American concert organist. As a result of Fox's apparent popular appeal, arrangements were made for him to appear here for another concert in November, 1948.

Two encores, "Come Sweetest Death," a Bach chorale, and Gigout's "A Toccata" were played by the artist in addition to his announced program.

The audience seemed reluctant to leave after the concert was completed apparently with the hope that additional numbers could be presented by the organist who is head of the department of organ at the Peabody Conservatory of Music, and is also minister of music at the Riverside Church of New York city.

Mr. Fox had given a concert here in March, 1946.

New Oxford Is Baseball Champ

New Oxford is the champion of the Adams County Baseball league.

At least that appears to be the situation following developments Thursday when Bendersville and New Oxford decided to cancel the remainder of the playoff games after a squabble arose over the site for this Saturday's game.

According to a New Oxford official, it was agreed following last Sunday's game to stage this Saturday's contest at New Oxford where larger crowds have been turning out. It is reported several Bendersville players refused to play at New Oxford claiming the site should be Bendersville, then in turn New Oxford players resented the proposed change of site after the agreement had been made to play at New Oxford.

On Thursday officials of both teams failed to get together on the playoff and decided to cancel the remainder of the series, with a Bendersville official reported to have conceded the title.

In conceding the title the fact that New Oxford has won two of three games was considered. The league rules call for a three-game title series but the teams involved took it upon themselves to schedule a five-game series.

10 DIE AS FIRE SWEEPS CHICAGO BUILDING TODAY

Chicago, Oct. 10 (AP)—Ten persons, including six children and four women, were killed and more than a dozen others were injured early today in a fire which swept through a crowded four-story apartment building on the city's near North-west Side.

All of the dead and injured in the blaze, which police and fire officials said appeared to have been of incendiary origin, were negroes. Fourteen were hospitalized.

Firemen searched the smoldering ruins of the 16-apartment building after early reports had placed the death toll as high as 20. Flames Spread Quickly

More than 250 persons were reported by police and firemen to have been in the building at 940 West Ohio street when the blaze broke out under a stairway on the first floor and spread quickly through the roof.

Fire Commissioner Michael J. Corrigan said a charred can that smelled strongly of kerosene was found in the stairwell. He believed that the fire had been deliberately started.

Panic gripped the tenants as the flames swept swiftly up the stairs, penetrating all 16 flats. One woman was killed and four other persons were injured as they plunged out of windows before firemen reached the burning structure.

Use Landing Net Five tenants leaped into the firemen's landing net before a part of it was torn by the impact of a heavy man. A minute later a woman jumped into the torn net and was killed. Other tenants fled down the stairs or descended on a fire escape.

Two women and six children perished by suffocation or were fatally burned in third and fourth floor apartments. The dead children included two boys about 1 and 3, and four girls ranging in age from 2 to 15.

VESPER SERIES OPENS SUNDAY AT ST. PAUL'S

The 1947-48 series of Union Vesper services will open on Sunday night, at 7:30 p.m. in St. Paul's Lutheran church with the Rev. Kenneth D. James, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church preaching the sermon.

This is the third consecutive year for the Union Vesper services in Littlestown. The first of these services was held in October, November and December 1945. There was then a recess until after the Christmas holidays when the services were resumed the middle of January and continued until the second Sunday before Easter. The first year, the sermons were delivered by guest ministers.

In October, 1946, the second year of these services was begun, with the local ministers preaching the sermons from October until December. When they were resumed following the holiday recess in January, 1947, guest ministers were again invited. As a result of these union services, the community was enabled to have many outstanding preachers of the various denominations represented in the community.

Schedule Is Complete

The third season of this union effort will begin on Sunday night and continue for ten Sundays, October 12th to December 14th, with the local ministers preaching the sermons. The complete schedule was published in these columns on September 22. Announcement will be made from week to week of the preacher and the church in which the service will be held. St. Paul's Lutheran church was chosen for the initial service because of the large auditorium. Because of hazardous driving conditions in winter time, the next four services will be held in Christ Reformed church and St. John's Lutheran church. This will keep the services in the borough at the time when freezing weather approaches.

The Rev. Mr. James has chosen "The Mind of Christ" for his theme on Sunday evening. This will be the first of a series of two sermons on that theme. ## Sunday School Lesson

CHRIST, THE MINISTER OF BETTER THINGS

By Rev. Howard R. Gold, D. D.
Margaret C. Gold

Hebrews 4:14-16; 7:26-27; 9:23-26; 10:11-14

Memory selection: He is able to save them to the uttermost that come unto God by him. Hebrews; 7:25.

We might call the three lessons at the beginning of the new quarter which are taken from the Epistle to the Hebrews a challenge to all Christians to hold fast to the "better faith." Christians today are wavering and "drifting away" from their faith more easily than the ancient Hebrews. The writer of this great epistle exhorted his first readers to keep steadfast, open-minded, and true, so that they could find hope and salvation in the redeeming love of Christ.

Dr. J. H. Jowett likens the Epistle to the Hebrews to a great cathedral and calls it the "Westminster Abbey of the Bible." In drawing the simile he says: "There are some beautiful little side chapels where a weary soul can bend in quiet and reverent prayer and praise; some most winsome light breaks through quite unexpected windows, as you move about in the august place—and you are never allowed to get far from Calvary and the Cross."

The thought of the lesson is centered around the contrast between the Levitical priesthood and the priesthood of Christ. The latter was in the realm of heavenly realities, was under better conditions. "The law has but a shadow of the good things to come."

Temple Practices
The argument in the text rests upon Jewish practices and the ritual used in the Temple worship. The ritual included the priests, the daily offerings, the blood sacrifices, chanting of psalms and so forth. Many of these old Jewish customs were given a new meaning by the Christian Church. Every sacrifice was symbolic. For instance the preparation of the sacrifice itself on the Day of Atonement dramatized the obligation man owed to God. According to the requirements of the Temple system the High Priest spent a week alone preceding the day so he would not be defiled or contaminated by the sins of others.

The priestly class were Levites who dated away back to Aaron. Membership in the priesthood was hereditary and the office of High Priest was highly respected. By virtue of this holy office the High Priest had economic security for life, could attain high honors, and be excused from certain responsibilities resting upon ordinary citizens. Until the time of Herod the Great the priestly line was kept strictly pure and undefiled. When Herod interfered with the Levitical order it started to deteriorate, so that in Jesus' day the office was sought to manipulate to the priests' advantage the huge revenues of the Jerusalem Temple. Finally, the Roman Empire crept that the office of High Priest must be approved by the emperor. After the destruction of the Temple in 70 A.D. the priests were scattered and Jewish religious and national life disrupted.

The "worldly sanctuary" is described in Chapter 9. In the first tabernacle or Holy Place were the table, the candlestick and altar. A veil separated this from the Holy of Holies which contained only the Ark of the Covenant and was entered once a year by the High Priest to offer sacrifice "for himself and for the errors of the people." The veil of the Temple was rent at the moment of Christ's death, showing the removal of the barrier between God and man.

Then came Christ, "who is holy, harmless, undefiled—made higher than the heavens." Being spotless and without sin Jesus did not need to be purified either for his own sins or those of others. Both the Greeks and Jews believed there were seven different heavens, each higher than the one preceding. So Christ was in the highest heaven seated on the right hand of God.

The Final Sacrifice
A great climax is reached when the writer of Hebrews comes to the conclusion of the contrast between Christ and the earthly High Priest. The priest stands daily ministering and offering sacrifices which never have the power to take away sin.

But the Savior, Jesus Christ, "had offered one sacrifice for sins forever" in his own precious blood. "For by one offering he hath perfected them forever that are sanctified." Christ can save for all time those who draw near to God through Him.

Hold Fast
"Let us hold fast the profession of our faith without wavering." This is from the King James Version, a clarion call to Christians of every age to make strong claims in Jesus' behalf. We must exalt Christ, not limit Him or ignore his claim on our time, energy, and talents.

"And let us consider one another to provoke unto love and good works; not forsaking our own assembling together, as the custom of some is, but exhorting one another." Regular attendance at church worship, unselfish interest in others, and urging others to greater diligence in spiritual matters are indicated here as the practical fruits of the better faith.

Nationally-famed as coach of Northwestern University's "Fighting Wildcats," Lynn Waldorf knows the importance of a well-balanced diet. Not only for football players, but for everyone.

"No meal," says Lynn Waldorf, "should be complete without plenty of Homogenized Vitamin D Milk. I know it to be the favorite meal-time beverage of many champions."

It's a better food for all the family, our Homogenized Vitamin D Milk—because it nourishes than regular milk—because it has added Vitamin D, in addition to milk's abundant other vitamins and minerals. Especially recommended for growing children and teen-agers who need Vitamin D to help build and maintain strong bones and sound teeth.

Everyone should drink this smoother, creamier milk. It's Nature's most nearly perfect single food... now better!

drinking with each other along the bank of Flat Run creek, near Emmitsburg. The State also contends that the men were seen to argue strike each other, culminating with Wivell dragging the apparently unconscious old man into the shallow stream and then batter him with rocks. Wivell was shortly afterward arrested at the home of a friend in Emmitsburg.

He was indicted by the September grand jury of last year, and the following October 8 was committed to Springfield State Hospital for treatment. He was given a psychiatric examination last November 8, and also on December 20. General findings were that he was insane at the time of the alleged crime.

He apparently responded to treatment and was released from Springfield several months ago to the custody of the Frederick county authorities to await trial.

When the case was called Wednesday morning, defense counsel asked court leave to modify his plea to not guilty by reason of insanity at the time the alleged crime occurred. This was granted.

Dr. Preston was the only witness to take the stand Wednesday. His testimony, largely corroboration of written reports previously submitted, was closely questioned by Judge Woodward, over an extended period. When pressed by the court, the

NEW ESTIMATES ON CROPS TODAY
Washington, Oct. 10 (AP)—The government looked anxiously to a new crop forecast today for a possible boost in the corn yield estimate which would ease the world grain shortage.
Despite signs of bettered midwest crop conditions, President Truman clearly was not banking on any great gain. Public observance of meatless and eggless days is of "vital importance" in easing Europe's hunger, he told his weekly news conference.
Chairman Charles Luckman of the Citizens' Food committee, waiting for the verdict from distillers and brewers on his drastic conservation proposals for their industries, said nationwide cooperation is essential to "the saving of peace."
The new crop report, closely guarded within the Agriculture Department and awaited with unusual eagerness in the grain-conscious capital, was due for release at 3 p. m., EST. It contains the department's estimate of production of all major crops as of October 1.
A boost of 100,000,000 bushels or so in the corn estimate, over the 2,403,913,000 forecast a month earlier, would go a long way toward making up the foreign deficit while maintaining a high level of livestock production in this country.
MILK PRICE UP
Harrisburg, Oct. 10 (P)—Retail milk prices advanced one cent a quart today in the Pittsburgh and Allentown-Bethlehem marketing areas under new orders issued by the milk control commission. Consumers in these two areas, two of the largest in the state, will start paying 20¢ cents a quart for grade B milk, with the price continuing indefinitely in the Pittsburgh area.
